

HÄFELE LEIGHTON

The stainless steel version of the classic Leighton does not compromise on its space saving proportions and distinctive design. The stainless steel used to manufacture the Leighton complements its elegant contours and curves to bring a seamless appearance to your kitchen.

The stainless steel Leighton remains an ideal solution for a compact kitchen by utilising all of the space available.

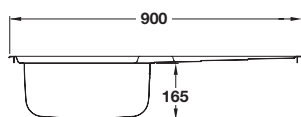

Häfele Leighton is also available in granite, shown on page 82 or in ceramic, shown on page 96

Taps are not included with this sink - see pages 121-126 for suitable taps
